

North Lambton Community Health Centre

The North Lambton Community Health Centre incorporates and consolidates programs that now exist in outdated and inadequate facilities. Designed in close consultation with the local Community of Forest, the Centre captures all that is positive in the architecture of the existing buildings of the town. It is constructed in a way that incorporates the latest technologies and is laid out to maximize the efficiency of the site conditions and programs it serves.

Other aspects that it addresses include:

- the orientation of the proposed building with respect to the path of the sun and the direction of the prevailing winds
- the use and expression of natural materials in the construction
- the incorporation of a positive relationship to the outdoors through the use of windows, canopies and seasonal outdoor areas.

Client: North Lambton Community Health Centre
Cost: $2.2 M project cost
Architect: Two Row Architect

